To Whom It May Concern:

This letter is to inform you of the dedication and perseverance that Mark Saiki has maintained in the classroom on a daily basis. I am presently working with him in an instructional setting creating and implementing social science learning materials insofar as his Discussion Packet Teaching Method. I have used and reviewed multiple editions of his work and in my opinion, they work very well form a student oriented standpoint. Mark has created multiple lesson plans that cater to a diverse student body; special education, English Language Learners (ELL), and proficient/advanced. One might infer that this is an exhausting endeavor; however, Mark always appears fresh and full of enthusiasm no matter the discourse. He has developed a unique style of pedagogy that enables him to utilize his life's experience to illustrate examples so that our students have an increased rate of retention and recall. In addition, his firm but gentle nature encourages our students to observe his professionalism, day in and day out. Mark is an asset to my classroom as well as a talented resource for all the students regardless of their academic abilities!

Respectfully Yours,
